

Integrated Leadership Groups

YOUR BUSINESS NEEDS YOU TO BE AT YOUR BEST CMA CAN HELP

Participating in an ILG group – a small group of your business peers but not competitors – can provide you with peer learning & feedback, wise counsel, and a spiritually supportive business network. The groups are facilitated by experienced Christian business leaders, and are held for a half-day on a four-to-six weekly schedule determined by the participants. There are currently three groups meeting in various places around Melbourne. CMA is seeking to form new groups in Sydney, Brisbane and elsewhere. In Melbourne, options exist for either new groups, or possibly joining existing ones.

BENEFITS OF ILG MEMBERSHIP

- A regular place of refuge where you can step back from the intensity of your workplace, and reflect and talk with others, in confidence, under expert guidance.
- An objective, friendly and spiritually-attuned sounding board for the ideas, challenges and opportunities that relate to leading your organisation.
- Exploration of a deeper integration of faith at work – where prayer undergirds leadership roles, and peers provide support and encouragement through difficult times.
- Regular input from visiting guest speakers.
- Opportunities to contribute to the development of your peers, and to develop your own leadership and business skills.
- All ILG members receive a full CMA individual membership with publications, discounts, website access, access to CMA Networks, and more.

WHO IS ILG FOR?

- Business, professional and civic leaders in large organisations
- Owners and managers of small to medium enterprises (SME)
- Church & ministry leaders

THE INVESTMENT

ILG annual membership costs $1760 incl GST, or $480 per quarter based on a one-year commitment.

For further information, contact CMA National Director, Gary Williams, gary@cma.net.au or 07 5545 2004